

A special new edition of:

A TIME OUTWORN

By Val Mulherns

ISBN 978-1-9162975-1-7 / 242 pages / €15.00 / Pub date: 14 Feb 2025

Valentine's Day 2025 marks the centenary of the birth of Irish writer Val Mulherns. To celebrate, 451 Editions brings out a special edition of her widely-acclaimed first novel, A Time Outworn. Originally published by Chatto and Windus in 1951, it's a coming of age novel set in Ireland just after the Second World War.

When Maeve Cusack falls short of the marks required for a university scholarship, her immediate prospects are unclear, complicated by her relationship with the bookish young Diarmuid. An intelligent and fiercely independent soul, Maeve's decisions are life-changing and highly untypical for the times. As much a portrait of post-war Irish society as of its distinctive heroine, it's a compelling fiction debut.

The New York Times praised it as "written in a cool and lovely prose". The Irish Times called it "a sensitive, intelligent first novel".

Frank O'Connor, in a piece commissioned by Harpers Bazaar, wrote: "the prose is the sort that only a woman of genius can write, with every word like a dart at a target." In his foreword to the new edition, Carlo Gébler notes: "There are few if any Irish novels written and published in the period with the breadth of interests in all senses that are on display in A Time Outworn."

Val Mulherns went on to write ten more books, becoming a renowned voice in Irish literature, and among the first elected members of Aosdána. Her most recent titles were Memory and Desire and a memoir, Friends with the Enemy, which she launched with a public reading just weeks before her death in 2018.

The anniversary edition will have a foreword by Carlo Gébler, and an introduction drawn from Mulherns's late 1940s diaries, by her daughter Maev Kennedy. Pre-publication proofs will be available to literary editors and reviewers, and both the paperback and eBook editions will be available from all good bookshop websites internationally, and in select Irish bookshops.

The official publication date is February 14 2025, to celebrate the centenary of Val Mulherns's birth on February 14 1925. Please don't hesitate to contact us for information or a review copy.

See more at: www.451Editions.com/our-books/outworn or www.Valmulherns.com

Queries to 451 Editions at: outworn@451editions.com